Dear Ladies and Gentleman,

our new exhibition CASH on the Wall, starts February 17th and presents the interesting dynamic and artistic positions of money and art from the last five decades. Internationally well known artists look ironically and recalcitrant on the significance of money and scrutinize the moral concept of many from different angles.

Artists from Joseph Beuys to Andy Warhol use bills as medium of their message. Other artists create their own currencies and comment conceptually economic and social developments. The new trend of NFT-Art (Non-Fungible Token) will also be shown.

Artists whose works are on view include: Katharina Arndt, Joseph Beuys, Bewegung NURR, Victor Bonato, Dadara, Annett Deppe, WP Eberhard Eggers, Thomas Eller, Elmgreen & Dragset, Albrecht Fersch, Ueli Fuchser, Hannah Heer, Markus Huemer, Uta Hünninger, Horst Hüssel, Robert Jelinek, Anne Jud, Vollrad Kutscher, Alicja Kwade, Christin Lahr, Helge Leiberg, Via Lewandowsky, Lies Maculan, Laurent Mignonneau, Lee Mingwei, Michael Müller, Roland Nicolaus, Wolfgang Nieblich, Ingrid Pitzer, Anahita Razmi, Werner Schmiedel, Michael Schoenholtz, Reiner Schwarz, Justine Smith, Christa Sommerer, Gerd Sonntag, Daniel Spoerri, Klaus Staeck, Hans Ticha, Timm Ulrichs, Philipp Valenta, Petrus Wandrey, Andy Warhol, Caroline Wehrauch, Vadim Zakharov.

In the accompanying workshop of the exhibition we produce in the Werkstatt für Kreative our own artistic play money at „Der schöne Schein – Entwirf dein Kunst-Spielgeld“. During a tour together through the exhibition children and teenagers from 5 to 18 years will first learn about the different approaches of the artists. In the creative part they will create individual and colorful bills with their very own motives, names and values

Just in time for the start of the exhibition, our website shows itself with a new inviting appearance. In addition to all the information provided by the Stiftung KUNSTFORUM (in German and English), the art-collection Kunstsammlung der Berliner Volksbank for the first time can now be viewed digitally.

Last but not least: all activities of the Stiftung KUNSTFORUM der Berliner Volksbank gGmbH are now spatially united under one roof.
